PROFITABLE EXCITEMENT—THE PUBLIC MEETing of the Knickerbocker Building Association, last Menday evening, was one of the most crowded and enthusiactic ever held by any similar association. The explanation of the principles, showing the immunes profits to be derived by members, and the perfect safety of the investment, was extremely satisfactery, and nearly one nundred shares were subscribed for by those present. To accommodate all who may choose to attond, the next meeting will be held in Knickerbocker Hall, corner Iwenty-third street and Eighth sevenue, on Monday evening, January Zhin. A Lecture, giving the full particulars of the rise and progress of Building Associations, the advantures to its members, its superiority over savings banks, Re., will be delivered on this occarion by W. T. B. Milliken, Esq. As there are a large class of females in this city whose savings are of infinite importance to them, this meeting has been called more particularly for their benefit, and they are most respectfully invited to attend. The investment of their three deliars per month will positively yield them, in the course of about six years, eight hundred deliars; and the rame amount invested in a savings hark would not realize such an interest in a half century. Think of this, and join at souce the Knickerbocker Buildirg Association. Welcome R. Beebe, President. J.

EXILED IRISH PATRIOTS—LARGE DELEGATION TO THE FRESIDENT—REFUEAL OF MR FILLMORE TO INTERPERE, ETC.

Washington, January 22, 1882.
We understand from respectable authority, that most satounding and conclusive evidence has been received at the State Department, from the American Minister in Mexico, that the notorious Gardiner claim is a fraud been procured to show that all the books and vouchers of Gardiner, upon which this claim of half a million was paid, were forgeries. The case, we learn, comes up in a few days in court, when government will ask for a post-ponement, with the view of bringing wifnesses from Mexico.

Mexico.

A deputation of Irishmen, 250 strong, from Battimore, strived to day, to memorialize President Filmore to appeal for the release of Smith O'Brien and his acconstant. The deputation marched in procession to the President's, at 4 o'clock, and were conducted into the East room. The company amounted to 150. Dr. charly presented a memorial from Baltimore, with 15,000 signatures, praying the kindly intervention of our executive for the release of Smith O'Brien and his associates, exiles in Australia. Dr. Chasly also delivered a speech, pleading the same cause, in which he referred to the release of Kogsuth as a case in point.

Austrana. Dr. Chasy also delivers a speech, pleasing the same cause, in which he referred to the release of Kossuth as a case in point.

The President, in reply, distinctly said the government could not interfere, as it would be infringing upon our national policy of non intervention. Should the government apply and be indignantly refused, for example's sake, there would be no remedy. He could act officially in reference to prisoners held by other nations, who were citizens of the United States; but this was not such a case. The government had not intervented even for the liberation of Lafayette, when imprisoned at Firmuts. Nor was the case of Kossuth similar to this application. He was a subject of Austria, and our government applied to Turkey, where he was held a prisoner. The President, however, promised to do all that he could personally, to meet the prayer of the petitioners. [I understand there was a cabinet council this morning, on this subject, and that this answer of light non-intervention was the result!]

that this answer of rigid non-intervention was the result.

D'Arcy Mages then presented a memorial from five thousand signers, of Boston and Maine, in behalf of O'Brien and his associates.

Mr. Mages also made a short speech, expressing his regret at the decision of the President, but deciaring that it was not the wish of the Irish adopted citizens of this country to involve it in any difficulty, or take any step inconsistent with its established policy. He referred to numerous historical examples of this generous kind of intervention in behalf of state prisoners of other countries. France had thus interposed for Mary, Queen of Scots, and England for the Hagesnots. Mr. Mages said he had made these remarks without any desire of requiring a reply, as the President had answered to the general application already.

The President briefly replied, that while he could not deviate from our national policy, he could say that his feelings were as warm for O'Brien and his associates in captivity, as those of the gentleman himself.

The deputation adjourned, disappointed, and we expect some criticisms on the subject at the Irish dinner tonight.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22, 1852. THE MEXICAN INDEMNITY, ETC. Mr. Disney (dem ), of Ohio, introduced a resolution, which was adopted calling on the President for information relative to the payment of the Mexican indemnity.

A resolution was passed to close the debate on the Mexican Instalment bill to morrow.

THE DELUGATE FROM UTAH—THE LEGALITY OF HIS ELECTION—TREMINDOUS EXCITEMENT.

Mr. BRIGGS (whig), of New York, called up his resolution, instructing the Committee on Elections to inquire into the election of John M. Bernheisel, delegate from Utah—whether said election was held according to law; and whether any bribery, corruption, or other illegal and whether any bribery, corruption, or other illegal means, were used by Mr. Bernhelsel, with Brigham Young or any other person, to secure the end election and return, with power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Housew (dem.), of Als., suggested that if the resolution should be taken up, it would cause debate; therefore, would it not be better to pass over the subject for the present, as the debate on the Mexican Indemnity bill is new limited?

Mr. Bancos said, if he was satisfied that debate would arise and unrecessarily consume the time, he would not

Indeannity bill is new limited:

Mr. Bancos said, if he was satisfied that debate would arise and unnecessarily consume the time, he would not press the matter.

Mr. Dara, (dem.) of N. Y.—This resolution will be debated. I, and several others, desire to be heard, and I hash my collesgue to let it go over.

Mr. Bancos, considering that there had already been a postpendment of the subject, and not being of opinion that it would consume the time of the House, presed the consideration of the resolution.

Mr. Francos, (dem.) of Fenn.—I think the delegated humself ought to be consulted.

Mr. Richandson, (dem.) of Hl., said it was due to the delegate that he be heard in explanation and vindication of the charges. He (Mr. R.) was for giving Mr. Bernsheirel a fair chance and a fair fight.

Mr. Personeral said—For the information of the House, I will merely say, I reteived the news of my nomination on my feturn home last summer. I was elected without a competition, and received every vote cast in lasterratory, and my election did not cost me a dollar, as has been erroneously reported hers. The certificate of my election, giving the number of votes, and signed by the Governor, and countersigned by the Boorstary of the Territory, and having affixed to it the broad seal of the Territory of Utab, I ask leave to send to the Sierle.
